

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Tuesday, Sept. 22

1998

Pilot to Share Crash Experience At Lunch-n-Learn Seminar Wed.

"United Flight 232, the Unflyable Plane," will be the topic of a Lunch-n-Learn seminar at noon Wednesday in Bldg. 4200, Morris Auditorium. Dennis Fitch, aviation consultant and former United Airlines pilot, will share his experience as a passenger -- and ultimately a pilot -- of the flight that crashed in Sioux City, Iowa, in 1989.

Safety Focus of Workforce Stand Down Day Wed. at MSFC

Safety & Health Fair, 10 a.m.- 2 p.m. Wed. in Bldg. 4200, Room G-13

Internet Conference on NASA Programs, Goals Set for Oct. 9

NASA will sponsor an on-line conference on Turning Goals Into Reality on Friday, Oct. 9. It will bring together government and industry representatives to discuss aviation and space transportation issues and goals. Participation will be open to the public. Prior to the conference, three on-line chat sessions will be held. The first, on Global Civil Aviation, is planned for 2 p.m. CDT on Wednesday. More information is available on the Web at <http://www.hq.nasa.gov/office/aero/conf98>